Discussion notes

Our question	What do we owe one another when we share a meal?
How to use this sheet	Choose a few questions. Note a film moment and what it suggests. You may read from your notes during discussion.
01 Notice	Who offers food? How does the other person respond?
02 Interpret	What might the giver intend? How does the receiver experience it?
03 Film choices	How do framing, editing, sound or pace shape your reading?
04 Compare meals	What changes at another meal? Does it challenge your first reading?
05 Responsibility	What do the characters owe one another here?
Start with evidence	“In the scene where …, I noticed … . This suggests …”

Ideas to discuss

Use a specific scene to explain your thinking.

06 Care and control	Does the receiver experience food as the cook intends?
07 Belonging	Does sitting together make these characters feel like a family?
08 Change	What changes in who decides, speaks or leaves?
09 Communication	What can food communicate that dialogue leaves uncertain?
10 Food and art	Would you describe the cooking as an artistic practice?
11 Berger	What does this meal offer beyond satisfying hunger?
12 Listen and respond	How has another person's idea tested your reading?
During discussion	Explain an idea, use film evidence and respond to someone else. "I agree / read that differently because …"
Assessment	Your spoken ideas, evidence and responses are assessed. Speaking more often does not raise your grade. Nothing to hand in.
